

Learning Targets-Week Two

- I can write a consonant e (a_e) words correctly.
- I can write ai and ay words correctly.
- I can write ei and ey (sounds like a) words correctly.
- I can write igh and ea (sounds like a) words correctly.

Content Area

- Foundations in Social Studies
- Heat, Electricity, Magnetism

Monday (a_e)

chase, flame, shape, space, state, wage, whale, same, plate, base, case, blade, brave, shade, race, face, bake, plane, place

tricky words: social, scientist

A social scientist asks questions about a place. What questions do you have about your state?

Tuesday (ai, ay)

claim, grain, wait, gain, brain, daily, main, paint, pain, praise, quaint, rain, sail, strait, strain, stain, vain, waive, slain, snail, faint, raises clay, play, may, spray, stray, way, gray, crayon, fray, ray,

Tricky words: energy, temperature

Rays of sunshine will raise the temperature of the earth. Most of the energy on earth is gained from the sun.

Wednesday (ei, ey) --- sounds like long a vein, rein, heinous, beige, reign they, obey, grey, prey, survey, convey tricky words: historian, detective, geographer

A historian is like a detective in that they convey the meanings of clues. Historians rein in clues from the past while geographers survey the land.

Thursday (igh) and (ea) --- sounds like long a weigh, sleigh, neigh, neighbor, freight, eight, weight, neighborhood great, steak, break

tricky words: series, circuit

If your neighbor's holiday lights are in a series circuit, be careful not to break one. It costs eight dollars to replace the string of lights.